ABSTRACT

This paper discusses the errors of infinitive and gerund clauses that occur in students' writing. Research is done in order to investigate errors that the students tend to make in applying infinitive and gerund phrases to their writing.

The result of the analysis is expected to facilitate readers, especially students, to know better the characteristics of infinitive and gerund.